“THIS IS MY HAPPY PLACE.”

This sentiment resonated among our boys—our MC alumni—as they came home to their alma mater on Saturday, March 29, for Balik Loyola Tayo, a mini-reunion initiated by MC President Amb. Laura Quiambao del Rosario.

More than just a gathering, Balik Loyola Tayo was a heartfelt celebration of the enduring bonds our boys formed at Maryknoll-Miriam College. Alumni from the 1980s to the 2000s reunited, sharing laughter, stories, and cherished memories. They also caught up on exciting campus updates from the Alumni Engagement Office (AEO) and Marketing and Communications Office (MCO) and learned about upcoming alumni initiatives from the MMCAA. The festive atmosphere was even more special with surprise performances from our talented alumni.

From heartfelt messages to impromptu jam sessions, Balik Loyola Tayo was a true celebration of the Maryknoll/Miriam connection—a homecoming filled with warmth, camaraderie, and the enduring Maryknoll/Miriam spirit.

ALUMNI IN THE SPOTLIGHT

DR. CERES PAULINO-CANTO

By Morgana C. Villamil, Opinion Writer of Chi Rho Publications

Dr. Ceres Paulino-Canto, MD, FPPS, FPSPC, FPSE is a Pediatric Cardiologist and Miriam College High School alumna of Class 1998. Through her work, she advocates for pediatric cardiology, patient-centered care, and holistic support for both children and their families.

Dr. Canto pursued a career as a cardiologist with a subspecialty in Pediatric Echocardiography and has been in practice for almost four years. For her, pediatric cardiology has always been the driving force behind her motivations, especially now, as the current Section Head of Pediatric Cardiac Rehabilitation at the Philippine Heart Center, where she focuses on patient-centered care, treating children with congenital and acquired heart diseases. Beyond addressing their physical health, Dr. Canto also supports parents emotionally through group support sessions.

Last February, Dr. Canto published a storybook for children undergoing surgery featuring illustrations by her niece. She underscores the significance of a child's recovery milestones can sometimes be taken for granted, but seeing them thrive is deeply fulfilling, "It's the best feeling, it's so rewarding because that's what you want. You want to give them their childhoods back. We want them to live normal lives as close to normal as possible," she says.

She attributes her success not only to her own efforts but also to the help of others. Hard work, self-discipline, and mentorship have played crucial roles in her journey to becoming a doctor, especially in staying focused on her goals.

In recalling one of her most memorable experiences at Miriam College, she shares that when she was a grade school student, they were invited to the Congress to lobby for environmental sustainability and a total log ban. At just ten years old, she was given a megaphone to speak on this advocacy, reflecting how the institution's core value of 'integrity of creation' has been instilled within her up to this day. Among the many highlights of her life, Dr. Canto considers raising her daughter with the right values to be her greatest achievement. Professionally, she takes pride in leading and organizing five medical missions for Typhoon Yolanda victims in multiple municipalities aside from Leyte. At the time, she shared her plan on social media, and the overwhelming support she received, through donations, medicine, and volunteers, contributed to the success of the missions.

For Knollers who aspire to follow in her footsteps, Dr. Canto advises that they must be completely certain of their chosen career path and embody the same values that have guided her. She believes that self-discipline is crucial in ensuring one remains on track: "Because when you're out there, when you finish college and you're in graduate school, you're basically by yourself. Nobody will tell you to study. Nobody will tell you to manage your time. You have to be able to discipline yourself." Seeking mentorship, she adds, will also help in the long run, just as she found support in her college sorority.

Dr. Canto defines a Miriam College graduate as someone who has compassion, social awareness, and a love for serving others while being guided by our love for Mother Mary. These values are evident in her experiences, achievements, and unwavering commitment to her field.

EXPRESSING ART WITH A PURPOSE

In celebration of National Arts Month and Maryknoll College High School class of 1975's 50th Golden Jubilee, the Expressions Art Exhibit officially opens at the Henry Sy Sr. Innovation Center, Miriam College.

Running from 1 to 7 February, the event highlights Filipino artistry and fosters a deeper appreciation for creative expression.

National Arts Month, observed every February in the Philippines, is dedicated to showcasing and promoting local artistic talent while providing platforms for artists to gain wider recognition.

The Expressions Art Exhibit embodies this mission by featuring 40 stunning artworks, 27 of which were crafted by members of Maryknoll High School Batch 1975. The participating MCHS artists include Celine Celi-Enriquez, Gee V. Farrales, Celine Ongpin-Menes, Nancy Chichioco-Razon, Doya Lapuos-Varela, Chona Sarmenta-Quizon, Abelle Rola-Carlos, and Maricor Alvarez-Acenas.

"Whatever proceeds we get from the sale of these artworks, we will donate to the SDTEC of Maryknoll College so that we can fulfill our goal of putting 50 scholars through school by September of this year," said Gia Alvarez-Binamira, head of the art exhibit committee.

The exhibit's name, "Expressions," was chosen to reflect the essence of artistic creation. "We named it Expressions because we want to showcase how an artist can express themselves through art," Binamira explained.

This exhibition goes beyond aesthetics — capturing the true spirit of National Arts Month by celebrating creativity, fostering artistic expression, and extending generosity through art.

Interested buyers can explore and purchase the featured artworks through drybrush Gallery's website, directly contributing to the education of SDTEC scholars at Miriam College.

EMBRACING THE GIFT: MS. JINKY DATILES AMORES

On March 6, 2025, the Alumni Engagement Office held a turnover ceremony for Ms. Jinky Datiles Amores' donation—her book entitled Embracing the Gift.

The afternoon was filled with nostalgic stories about how Ms. Jinky discovered and embraced her unique gift, —from her childhood days, moving paper dolls with her mind, to doing fortune readings during school fairs at Maryknoll, and eventually becoming a courageous woman who helped cleanse homes and guided lost souls toward the light.

Anecdotes from her journey were shared by her high school and college friends and colleagues, including Mrs. Malou Gatchalian, a faculty member at Miriam College.

Introduction about the author:

Charina "Jinky" Datiles Amores, an alumna of Maryknoll (now Miriam) College with degrees in Psychology and ongoing doctoral studies in Family Studies, is a respected author, counselor, and researcher in Transpersonal and Paranormal Psychology. As co-founder of the InterSelf Foundation, she continues to explore spiritually-anchored technologies and interdimensional communication, making her recent donation of her book Embracing the Gift to her alma mater a meaningful homecoming.

Synopsis: Embracing the Gift chronicles the extraordinary life of Jinky Datiles Amores, a celebrated clairvoyant and counseling psychologist, as she journeys from a sensitive child to a woman who embraces her rare gifts in service of others. Blending personal stories of loss, healing, and supernatural encounters with insights into the human psyche, the book offers a powerful testament to self-mastery, spiritual awakening, and the transformative power of one's innate abilities.

The book is now available in all MC Library and Media Centers (LMCs).
